

Health for All Seasons! Colloidal Silver and Taheebo – A Dynamic Duo

This information is intended for members and customers in the US market.

Together, Life Force's Colloidal Silver and Taheebo represent a remarkably effective, and affordable, way to enhance health for the entire family. This is especially true during the winter season.

There are decades of research on the active ingredients in both, and all of this research supports our popular refrain, "When the body gets what it needs, it then has the opportunity to address its health challenges." We recommend using both products daily as "health assurance" to support immune system function.

COLLOIDAL SILVER

Did you know that human health can suffer when silver amounts are too low? That's right! Silver, like so many other micro minerals, is considered by many to contribute to optimum health.

Just what is colloidal silver and what specific quality features does Life Force's Colloidal Silver offer? By definition, a colloid is extremely small, which allows it to be used at the cellular level. Studies have shown that the size, as well as concentration, of silver particles determines how effective it is. The majority of these studies conclude that a colloid particle size of .001 microns (or smaller) at a concentration of 10 ppm (parts per million) was the most effective for long-term safe use. This is a classic case of "less is more." Many studies have shown that higher concentrations (50 – 500 ppm) are less effective, with the optimum concentration to be in the range of 5-10 ppm.

Colloids can be created through either a chemical or an electrical process, of which the electrical process is far superior. A visual way of assessing the quality of colloidal silver is by the color. The highest quality colloidal silvers are slightly golden in color.

Life Force's Colloidal Silver meets all of the standards for the highest quality colloidal silver, which are size (.001 micron), concentration (10 ppm), and color (slightly golden). Additionally, it is in ionic form. This increases its effectiveness exponentially by keeping the colloids from forming clumps.

How does it work? Minuscule colloidal silver ions disable the enzymes that certain microorganisms may rely upon for respiration. This function helps support a healthy micro organic environment in the human body.

TAHEEBO

Nature has provided many botanical answers for various ailments, and one of the most remarkably beneficial is the lapacho tree (also known as Taheebo and Pau D'Arco.) This special tree, known by the Incas as the "Giver of Life," is only found in the high Andes of South America. The key active component extracted is lapachol, which has demonstrated antibiotic, anti-fungal, and anti-inflammatory properties.

Life Force's Taheebo is a tincture and is 100% taheebo. These facts make our Taheebo amazingly effective. We have many impressive testimonials when used internally as well as when used topically.

We recommend Colloidal Silver and Taheebo as a valued addition to your "wellness cabinet."